Dear Mr. Bohlin,

Québec would be proud to host the 2008 Biennial Conference of the International Telecommunications Society and to welcome all the participants to Montréal.

With its sixty-or-so international organizations and a variety of annual events and festivals, Montréal, a city where over 160 languages are spoken, is one of North America's most cosmopolitan venues.

Montréal's convention centre and the many surrounding hotels, located in the heart of Montréal and its international district, can offer you exceptionally fine hospitality.

A vast array of nearby theatres, movie houses, and gourmet restaurants await the participants, as does Vieux-Montréal, where they can enjoy Montréal's joie de vivre in perfect safety.

I am therefore pleased to encourage you to choose Montréal and Québec as the site for the 2008 Biennial Conference of the International Telecommunications Society.
